Salesforce Consultant (m/w/d)

Beschreibung

We are a long-time Salesforce Consulting Partner and are looking for you to join our team. We provide consulting and development services for new applications based on Salesforce Cloud solutions. Through our project experience we are often confronted with rather complex requirements and we provide consulting from the business process to the solution design to the technical implementation. If you are interested in our environment and would like to work in an agile, growing team, we look forward to hearing from you.
